BRITAIN BREAKS WITH ARGENTINA

By Associated Press.
Buenos Aires, Monday, Aug. 4.—Diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Argentina as a result of Argentina's purchase of the German steamer, Bahia Blanca, are delicate, according to La Nación, which will say in tomorrow's issue: "Regarding rumors which from the beginning have been founded on more than suspicion, we received versions, the gravity of which are self-evident, and according to which the return to London of Sir Reginald Tower, British minister and the departure of Francisco Alvarez de Toledo, Argentine minister, from London, are not disconnected. On the contrary it appears the retirement of both ministers is traceable to the purchase of the steamer Bahia Blanca which purchase the British government refused to recognize."

By Associated Press.
Buenos Aires, Aug. 5.—Sir Reginald Tower denied that rumors of his return to London indicate an imminent rupture of relations between Britain and Argentina. He declared he was going to London merely for a rest.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Attorney General Palmer expected to be ready to present to the president today a preliminary report concerning possible steps by the government agencies to reduce living costs. Jules Harner, president of the United States Grain Corporation called at the White House. It is understood the president would discuss with him the proposal to restore wheat to a free market, with the government making good the differences between the market price and the guarantee to farmers.

Secretary Taft announced that the president had abandoned the bureau of nations conferences with senators and was "going to give his whole time to the question of the highest cost of living."

Administration officials feel that one way to decrease the cost is to increase production. It is understood that the president feels that strikes now or threats of strikes will interfere materially with any solution of the problem sought by government agencies. Whether the president will go before congress to recommend steps designed to relieve the situation will depend on the nature of the report made by General Palmer. Secretary Taft said.

GAME WARDENS NOT BLAMED FOR ENFORCING THE LAW

In the case of Frank Stefanae, the prospector, who was fined for hunting without a license, it appears that the arrest was due to the persistence of the defendant who saw the forest rangers camped below his place and urged them to come to his cabin where he displayed the contraband venison. The rangers did not partake of any hospitality and, after thinking the matter over, the defendant admitted that he was treated with civility. The officers sympathized with the prospector whom they carried back to his home.

TESTING FLOWS FOR IRRIGATION

Ira McFarland, formerly of Indian Springs and now connected with the state engineers' office, arrived last evening by auto on his way south where he is conducting investigations into the underflow. He reports that the state is testing the flow in Steptoe and White River valleys in White Pine county and is getting promising returns. In a few days the state will have two pumps installed, one of 600 and the other of 400 gallons capacity per minute for the purpose of determining the extent of water available for reclamation of these districts.

Mr. McFarland claims the time record for motoring between Ely and Carson City. He was in the former place July 20 when he received a wire from Engineer Scragham making an appointment for the 22d. It required several hours for McFarland to close a hearing he was conducting in the copper city and then he started by the Lincoln Trail for the capital, covering the distance of 240 miles in 21 1/2 hours. Considering the horrible state of the Lincoln Trail west of Eureka he thinks the time cannot be beat.
